SOCIETY

One of the most attractive as well as enjoyable affairs of the week was the luncheon given by the members of the Home League at the "Mary Louise" tea room yesterday afternoon at one o'clock. The room was beautifully decorated with baskets and vases of spring flowers of Easter lilies and daffodils, while the same flowers were used in adorning the tables.

Place cards and favors were in keeping with the yellow and white color scheme. Places were marked for thirty-six guests at the table and include: Mrs. Fred Baker, Mrs. Freeman Chase, Mrs. B. H. Cartwright, Mrs. G. T. Elliott, Mrs. J. D. Jordan, Mrs. P. B. Knapp, Mrs. L. G. Locke, Mrs. J. T. McCormick, Mrs. E. J. Luge, Mrs. Joseph Patton, Mrs. Herman Pick, Mrs. E. H. Dailey, Mrs. Theodore Slump, Mrs. W. A. Quinn, Mrs. Albert Reiser and Mrs. John Rottinghaus.

Mrs. Thomas Russell, Mrs. Howard Sellards, Mrs. Isabella Thomas, Mrs. Cornelia Treutbart, Mrs. C. W. Wendelken, Mrs. Charles Zulk, Mrs. Louis Thiers, Mrs. W. A. Eichelberger, Mrs. S. S. Halderman, Mrs. Charles Hanch, Mrs. Mary Holt, Mrs. Anna Kanause, Mrs. Thomas Nichols, Mrs. T. M. Patterson, Mrs. Albert Reiser, Mrs. J. M. Stockham, Mrs. Ernest Kelley, Mrs. O. J. Deitzler and Mrs. A. E. Evarard, the latter three being guests for the afternoon.

A musical program of unusual merit followed the luncheon, with Mrs. J. M. Stockham in charge. Mrs. O. J. Deitzler opened the program with two beautiful vocal selections: "The Open Secret" by R. H. Woodman and "Thank God for a Garden," by Teresa Delriego.

Mrs. Margaret Thiers Kelley delighted the guests with two clever readings, "The Minister's Black Nance," and "Scared At Night." Mrs. E. H. Dailey also gave two vocal selections very capably, having as her numbers "The Top of the Morning" and "At Dawn."

Yesterday's affair was the annual mid-winter picnic of the League, usually held at this season of the year. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. T. M. Patterson, chairman; Mrs. Albert Reiser, Mrs. C. W. Wendelken, Mrs. Herman Pick, Mrs. Fred Baker, Mrs. John P. Taylor and Mrs. James M. Williams.

During the business session Mrs. Howard Sellards was appointed first delegate, and Mrs. J. T. McCormick second delegate to represent the League at the annual conference of the Southeast District of the Federation of Clubs, to be held in Chillicothe April 27th and 28th.

The following invitations have been received by the secretaries of local women's organizations:

"The Federated clubwomen of Chillicothe extend a cordial invitation to all club women to attend the annual district conference to be held in this city, Thursday and Friday, April 27th and 28th. All club women, whether federated or unfederated are invited to attend the opening sessions."

A special conference for the music clubs will be held on Thursday afternoon, and a banquet for all of the delegates will be given Thursday evening at the Warner House. (The dress will be informal.)

Many interesting features are being planned by the women of Chillicothe for the enjoyment of the out-of-town guests, and it is anticipated that a large number of Portsmouth women, representing various clubs and organizations will be in attendance.

Mrs. J. A. Maxwell, 808 Second street, entertained a group of boys of her Sunday school class at Bigelow church with an informal party last night. Games and contests of various kinds made the evening hours enjoyable, and were concluded with the serving of appetizing "tarts."

The Woman's City Club will meet next Monday afternoon, March 27th, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Alan N. Jordan. A feature of the meeting will be several interesting speeches by prominent city officials.

Mayor William N. Galbreath will deliver a short talk on "The City's Finances"; Dr. O. D. Tuttle will speak on the Health of the City, and Frank Goodrich, local Game Protector, will talk on the Game Preserve.

Several musical numbers from the Music Memory Contest will also be given by various members of the club.

Another of the enjoyable dances for which the Buckeye Social Club have become noted, will be given at the Bessman Academy this evening from nine o'clock until midnight. Special musical attractions have been procured and all members are cordially invited to attend, bringing their wives or lady friends.

The freshmen class of the Valley township high school will give a play "Catherine DeMiles" this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Community Hall at Leesville.

Miss Carrie Elizabeth Platt, who attends Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, is spending her spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Platt, of 2022 Eighteenth street.

Sunday School Lesson

REVIEW
REV. P. E. BRITTON

Subject—Review.

Golden Text—Jehovah is righteous in all his ways, and gracious in all his works. Psalms 145:17.

The lessons which have occupied our attention for three months are incidents selected from the community life of an ancient people. Their noteworthy lies in the evident place which God had in social organization which we call the Kingdom of Israel. The value of these lessons to us is the fact that God's place in this social order is made both evident and prominent.

Our problem as students of this ancient literature is to discover, first of all, what place God had in the organized life of these people, second to acknowledge God's right to a place in our own community and social life. Third, to discover what these lessons may teach us concerning our practical acceptance of God's place in our affairs.

In lesson one we note that the problem was that of the relation of labor and capital. Luxury was oppressing labor. We are to discover from the lesson what God's judgment was in this situation. We are then to decide whether we shall assume that God is visiting the same judgment upon us concerning our problems arising from the relations of labor and capital and luxury.

In lesson two, the evident teaching is the relation of pure religion to national welfare. Our thoughts are burdened with the problem of national prosperity, another term for national welfare. We are therefore to try to discover whether or not our religion has any helpful relation here.

In lesson three we note the fundamental place of pure religion in the life of the people. Elijah was quite sure nothing of permanent blessing could come to Israel unless the people returned with all their heart to the pure worship of Jehovah. This suggests a problem for the Christian people of today.

In lesson four we are given a dramatic study of a misinformed reformer, a one idea man. Elijah believed himself with all his heart. He thought when his program did not solve the whole problem, he had failed and might, therefore, as well die. At Mount Sinai he was shown the relation of what he had done to the things that were yet to be accomplished by other men.

In lesson five we have an opportunity to study the meaning of the nature, and the consequences of autocratic government. It is possible for what we call a democratic government to be autocratic. There is a never ending contest between government and those whom it governs, whether it be in a democracy or in an autocracy.

In lesson six we are encouraged by what we call social service by the strenuous of God's reward of benevolence.

Lesson seven continues the idea of the previous lesson. We have here an exhibition of hospitality, gratitude and recompense. Underlying it all is the beautiful recognition of a beautiful worker of God who was familiarly known as the "man of God."

In lesson eight we are favored with a picture of the benevolent use of power. The social possibilities of such a suggestion are boundless.

In lesson nine we are brought face to face with the fact of the superiority of the spiritual over the material. This is a lesson we need to learn in the present day when we are growing under burdens of taxes which are imposed to sustain a material and a military social order.

This lesson may cause us to pause with great regret over the tardiness with which spiritual ideals make their way in the national affairs. In lesson ten we have a suggestion of the right sort of internationalism. That intense patriot, the prophet Jonah, had to learn what he was unwilling to admit that God cared as much for one nation as he did for another.

The Phonograph that amazed Portsmouth can be bought!

There is a rumor abroad that the instrument which triumphed in the drastic comparison test, made last Monday at High School Auditorium, was a special exhibition model. That rumor is false. The instrument was a regular Official Laboratory Model,—out of our own stock.

Every Official Laboratory Model in our stock is guaranteed to sustain the same test.

If you were one of those, in Monday's audience, who wistfully exclaimed: "Wouldn't it be wonderful if I could buy a phonograph like that?"—know that you can. Know that it will perform this miracle every day for you in your own home.

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph With A Soul"

Come in and hear for yourself the Official Laboratory Model's marvelous realism. Find out about our Budget Plan, which enables you to own an Official Laboratory Model for a small down payment, the balance on a gentleman's agreement to suit your convenience.

Note: The test at High School Auditorium, was made by Glen Edison, the world-famous baritone. He compared his living voice with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. There was no difference between the living voice and the RE-CREATED voice.

The New Edison stands absolutely alone in this achievement; no other phonograph has ever sustained this test of comparison.

Police Meet Opposition In Raid; Two Arrests Made; Combs Is Fined $300

The police met with opposition on a liquor raid in North Moreland addition Thursday afternoon when they visited the home of Frank Combs and started to make a search, which, when carried to completion produced results for it led to the uncovering of the presence of liquor there and the arrest of Combs for violating the prohibition law and his son Victor Combs for disorderly conduct.

Soon after entering the house the officers heard a noise of breaking glass coming from the bath room and on entering, being forced to break the lock, discovered Mrs. Combs and two children, in the act of breaking bottles and pouring the contents into the commode as rapidly as possible. The police were not in time to stop them but one of the officers secured a cloth and soaked up about a pint of the liquor which had been spilled on the floor to use as evidence.

Combs, on being brought before Squire Charles Davis, of New Boston, pleaded not guilty but later changed his plea to guilty and the magistrate passed him a fine of $300 and costs. He paid up and was released from custody.

The officers who participated in the raid were Chief Distel, and Patrolmen Haley, Bradham, Kennel and Schaefer and two New Boston officers.

The soft drink establishment conducted at Fifteenth and Chillicothe streets by H. C. Smith was entered by burglars sometime Thursday night and the thieves carried away several thousand cigarettes and cigars.

Mutt and Jeff In Big Show At Sun Monday

"Mutt and Jeff in Chinatown," the latest Bud Fisher effusion, based on his famous comics of the same name and fame, will be the attraction at the Sun theatre, commencing Monday, matinee and night. The new play, which tells the story of a young heiress who is in love, but cannot marry unless she secures the consent of her guardians, "Mutt and Jeff," is in two acts and a half dozen diverting scenes. Real comedy, mirth, tuneful melodies, pretty women in gorgeous gowns, and exceptional scenic adornment, surprises and novelties are a few of the good things promised. If one wonders why "Mutt and Jeff" are an international hit as well as an American institution, this play should act as infallible and convincing proof.

CORRECT STYLES IN HOSIERY

—is one of the little big things in women's correct wear. This holds especially true in a season like this where fashion has sponsored individual types of footwear for the morning walk to wear with sports suits, styles for semi-dress and evening slippers of rare charm. In comparison to its correctness and added charm it gives to the costume, the cost of possessing several pairs to harmonize with each is trifling.

ENDEAVORERS IN ORATORICAL CONTEST

A survey of world missions will be given by Endeavorers of the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening at 6:00 o'clock.

This survey will be given by means of an oratorical contest. It will be assumed the mission board has a fund of $10,000,000 to use in that country, whose representative can make the best plea for it. Five Endeavorers, each representing one country, will tell why "this money should be used to win Africa, China, India, Japan and by special choice Alaska. Substantial cash prizes have been posted by members as first and second awards, which it has been agreed upon to send as mission money to those countries the winners represent.

With a large amount of up-to-date information regarding mission conditions and some able orators, a great contest is looked forward to.

STILL NEWER MILLINERY MODES—FOR EASTER

And such lovely styles; entirely new thoughts, with new touches here and there that give them that aristocratic appearance,—that "just different" look. In our estimation, these recent arrivals are prettier than the first harbingers.

Toques, turbans and other small-brimmed or brimless hats for the woman slender of face. Large-brimmed hats for the woman whose face is somewhat rounder—hats that may tie coquettishly under the chin. And perfect "loves" of poke hats that breathe the spirit of youth. Sailors of many shapes with brims that turn up or down, or are perfectly straight—often with soft crowns.

And colors! Why they rival "Joseph's Coat"! If you're dusky-haired, lipstick red, tangerine, and dandelion yellow will look entrancing. If you're a blonde, there are periwinkle, cornflower and sweetheart blues; jade green, and many others. And for silver-haired matrons, there are black and navy, orchid and pewter, and other shades that make them look all the lovelier.

Chamblin Makes Contession Before Dying In Chair; Forced Couple To Enter Cottage

Says He Was Afraid Victims Would Recognize Him; Dies With Faint Smile On Lips: Local Men At Electrocutation

COLUMBUS, O., March 24—Confession apparently relieved the troubled mind of Roy Chamblin, 27, of Portsmouth, slayer of Miss Louise Doyle and John W. Newman, near Portsmouth, last October, who was executed in the electric chair at the Ohio penitentiary early this morning. After spending most of yesterday weeping and bewailing his fate, he met death fearlessly.

Thursday afternoon he told Major Walter Collins, of the Volunteer Prison League, and Prison Chaplain T. O. Reed that he wished to confess. Telling his story in detail, according to Chaplain Reed, he said he had held up Newman and Miss Doyle in the former's auto along the road near the house where their bodies were found. After taking their valuables, he said, he feared he had been recognized and ordered them to the abandoned house, where he shot them. Previously he had declared he fired in the house after some one had thrown rocks at him.

"I have made my peace with God," he told Major Collins after he made the confession.

Gathered in the death chamber, about a score of witnesses, newspaper men and officials awaited Chamblin's coming with death-like stillness. At 12:03 the silence was broken by the faint tattoo of Chamblin's artificial leg on the floor of the annex, directly above. The death march had started. Down the stairway, Chamblin came, the dull thud becoming more distinct.

The stillness seemed to increase. Unassisted, Chamblin walked into the chamber, followed by Chaplain Reed and Major Collins. His hair almost completely covered his eyes. Seating himself in the chair, he brushed back his hair, as a faint smile swept over his countenance. The bells were fastened.

Three minutes after the current had been turned on, he was pronounced dead at 12:09 a. m. by Dr. W. C. Whitman. Newman and Miss Doyle disappeared from Portsmouth October 21, last. Their bodies were discovered October 28. Chamblin was arrested in Cincinnati, November 5, and pleaded guilty and was sentenced to be executed November 11.

Did Not Get To Talk To Murderer

Ex-Sheriff E. W. Smith, and N. & W. special officers Andy Leslie and E. T. Pratt of this city who witnessed the electrocution did not get to talk to Chamblin before he died. On the last day the prison rule is to have only Chaplain Reed and Major Walter Collins of the Volunteers of America talk with the prisoner during the last few hours of his life. The local men only got to see Chamblin when he walked into the death chamber and while he was put in the chair two persons.

Mrs. Easter Told Son To Pray So That He Would Be Forgiveness

Roy Chamblin last saw his mother, Mrs. Eva Easter, two weeks ago, when she called on him in the death cell. She spent the entire day with her son and read the Bible to him. Roy told his mother he was prepared to die and said that he felt sure that he would not get another reprieve. Mrs. Easter comforted her son, but he was resigned to his terrible fate. Mrs. Easter broke down completely on leaving her son and had to be assisted out of the big prison. She told Roy to pray every day so God would forgive him.

According to Pete Smith, Chamblin made his confession late in the afternoon when he talked with Chaplain Reed and Major Collins. The story of the confession was told to the three local men after the electrocution. According to the prison officials, Chamblin's cell in death row early in the afternoon and talked with him, telling him he only had a few hours to live and asked if he had told the whole truth about the affair for which he was to pay the death penalty. Chamblin is said to have replied that he had not told the truth but at that time no more questions were asked him and he did not say any more about the crime. A short time later Chaplain Reed and Major Collins returned to Chamblin's cell again and then talked with him of the details of the crime, telling Chamblin that if he intended to make peace with his God it would be necessary for him to not have a lie concealed in his soul.

Tells Complete Story Of AWFUL Crime

Chamblin's story of the murder, claiming that he found Newman and Miss Doyle in the automobile along the side of the road a short distance from the cottage, and that he decided to "stick them up," meaning he would hold them up and rob them. He said he took their money and then was afraid they had recognized him and made them leave the machine and march to the empty cottage where he killed them to prevent them telling of the holdup and robbery.

He is also said to have remarked that they were not the first ones he had stuck up along that section of the road.

During his previous visits to the pen Smith had told Warren Thomas his theory of the crime, that Newman and the girl were forced to go to the cottage and were not found there as first claimed by those slayers. This morning after the electrocution Warren Thomas called Smith and told him that his theory was right, that Chamblin had forced the pair to enter the cottage, according to his latest confession. Later the new confession, made by Chamblin, was told to the local men.

After leaving the pen Mr. Smith talked with Major Collins and wife of the Volunteer Workers of America and inquired if any plans had been made for sending the body back to relatives. He was informed by Mrs. Collins that an undertaker at West Union had communicated with a Columbus undertaker and that the body would be shipped to West Union today.

According to Smith, the most part of the body is shipped in the chair so tight that it does not move when the current is turned on and that the body is burned to a cinder.

Chamblin's left hand was clenched while on his right hand he had only two fingers doubled in the other remaining stiff and not moving when the death-dealing current was applied.

In these moments his life had been snuffed out and he had paid the extreme penalty.

Came As No Surprise Here
The fact that Chamblin made an eleventh hour confession came as no surprise to hundreds of local people, who were thoroughly familiar with all angles of the double crime. It was felt here all along that Chamblin marched the couple to the death cottage after he had stopped their machine and held them up on the Scioto Trail. Sheriff Riekey always clung to this theory as did other city and county officials.

The deserted cottage was vacated on October 12 and nine days later the couple was killed in it. Officials contended all along that neither Newman nor Miss Doyle knew the cottage had been vacated or that either had ever been there before. Relatives have insisted all along that the couple just started out for a ride and had intended returning by 9 o'clock. They became acquainted while working in the Excelsior plant. Many believe that it was the first ride the couple had ever taken together and that fate decreed that neither would return alive. On the night of the murder Miss Doyle left her home on Grandview avenue at 7 o'clock telling her mother she would be back at 9. Newman said he would work a while after supper. It is supposed that a short time after he reached the plant he met Miss Doyle and they left on

THE CONFESSION

Confession of Roy Chamblin in the presence of E. E. Riekey, L. H. Einspauer, Albert Richards, B. F. Bennett and Frank W. Riekey at the Scioto County jail on November 5, 1921, relative to the shooting of John W. Newman and Louise Doyle on October 21, 1921:

"On the night of October 21, I left the house of Ora Easter, my uncle, after supper and intended to go to Sherman Wilson's house in Houston's Hollow. I came across the river in a boat. I saw a machine standing on the road just below the entrance to the house where the bodies were found. I went up to the house and entered by the front door when some one threw a brick at me. I cut down on him three times and then shot the woman. I left the house, got in the automobile and drove through Lucasville over the bridge and on to the West Side. I left the auto stand where it was later found. I then got another boat and pulled my boat back over to the West Side and then went home. The next morning I left for Manchester and on my way over on the ferry I threw the pistol in the river."

Body Arrives Here; Is Shipped To West Union; Funeral Services Sunday

The body of Roy Chamblin arrived at the N. & W. station today on the noon N. & W. train, No. 16, from Columbus. The remains were sent to Winchester this afternoon on the train leaving here at 2:10 for Cincinnati. At Winchester the body will be taken in charge by Undertaker Lafferty of West Union. He will receive the body this evening or early tomorrow morning and will take it to the home of the mother, Mrs. Eva Easter, at West Union. Funeral services will be held some time Sunday afternoon from the home of the mother, with burial in West Union cemetery. The body of the electrocuted man rested at the depot here today from 11:35 a. m. to 2:10 p. m. and many called around at the depot to gaze at the rough box which contained the casket in which Roy Chamblin was placed shortly after his electrocution early this morning. His death verified his statement when taken to "murderers' row" in the pen. When the prison gates closed behind him, Roy sighed audibly and said: "Well, I guess when I come out of here it will be feet foremost." And he was right.

Mrs. Newman Says She Believed Chamblin Would Tell The Truth

"Roy Chamblin deserved his awful fate. He died just as he deserved." This was the comment made today on the murderer's death by Mrs. John W. Newman, wife of one of Chamblin's victims.

"I never believed for a moment that Mr. Newman and Miss Doyle went to the death cottage of their own accord. I thought all along Chamblin would tell the truth before he died. I believe he could have told more than he did. Surely Mr. Newman and Miss Doyle talked to the murderer while he cold-bloodedly led them to their tragic deaths. I shall always believe they did." Mrs. Newman was greatly relieved to learn that Chamblin had paid the penalty for his brutal crimes and that he had told the truth before he died.

MANY INTERESTED IN ELECTROCUTION

Times reporters were kept busy today answering the telephone about the Chamblin electrocution. Great interest was shown in it and many of the calls came from various parts of the county and from contiguous counties.

Mrs. Doyle Says She Believes Chamblin Could Have Told More

Mrs. Dollie Doyle of 1816 Grandview avenue this morning, when informed of the new development in the confession of Chamblin yesterday said, "I felt sure all the time that Louise and Mr. Newman were not found at that house and knew all the time that the murderer was not telling the truth. I do not believe he has told the whole truth when he says he marched them to the cottage just to kill them to keep them from telling on him. Chamblin deserved his fate."

what turned out to be a death trip for them. Newman had been working at nights and when he told Mrs. Newman he would return at 9 o'clock she attached no importance to this matter as her husband had been accustomed to doing this.

Mrs. Newman said today that her husband had a larger sum of money on his person than Chamblin said he found and he probably spent it in having a good time in Cincinnati before being arrested.

Officials here expressed the belief today that Chamblin held up many couples on the Trail and West Side last summer. In many instances the victims said the highwayman was a one-legged man and his description tallied with Chamblin's.

"The reason Chamblin always clung to the story that he found the couple in the cottage was due to the fact that he thought he would escape going to the chair by sticking to this story," a local official said today.

"He was smart enough to know that and if he told the truth no mercy whatever would be extended to him. He killed the couple in cold blood in an attempt to hide his robbery."

What puzzled the officials here was Chamblin's failure to get further away from the scene of the crime. Apparently he did not care how soon he would be picked up.

When asked by a Times man at the county jail why he did not go further away, he replied, "What's the use. I have nothing to live for. I never had a chance in life and the electric chair has no terror for me."

He was known by the names of

A Victim

Nichols and Paris as well as Chamblin here.

While here in October last Chamblin had in his possession a watch, which is thought to be the watch taken from Newman. He undertook to trade it to several different persons and made different statements as to how it came into his possession. To some he claimed he had traded a car for the watch and to others that the watch had been pawned to him. On Saturday, October 22, Chamblin took the watch to Robert McClelland, local jeweler, for a new crystal. Mr. McClelland described the watch as an open faced gold elgin watch, size 12, 7 jewel movement.

Chamblin had a half-sister living with his mother and a half-brother in the feeble minded institution. His mother bears a good reputation here as a hard-working woman.

Following is a copy of the record of Jacob Roy Chamblin, as taken from the records of the Wilson Children's Home.

No. 441—Jacob Roy Chamblin, a white male child, was admitted to the Home July 4, 1904, upon the medical examination and certificate of W. K. Coleman, M. D. He was admitted from Monroe township, Adams county, Ohio, but was born in Jefferson township of said county December 11, 1894, and has been a resident of Adams county all his life. Reasons for seeking admission to Home: "Family unable to support him." He had been living with James A. Nichols, Vineyard Hill, Adams county, Ohio.

There is no money or property held in trust for him. Is a child of sound body and mind, without mental or physical defects. He had had whooping cough but had not had measles nor scarlet fever and had not been vaccinated. Father's name, Homer Chamblin, nationality, American, age, residence and habits unknown. Mother's name, Evaline Nichols, present place of residence, Monroe township, Adams county, Ohio, former residence, Lynx, Adams county, Ohio, is 47 years of age and has been a resident of Adams county for 15 years, occupation, housekeeper, of good habits. Parents were never married. Father was not a soldier in U. S. service in the War of the Rebellion. Parents have never drawn from the Worthy Poor fund. Grandparents on father's side, Onley Chamblin, Barbara Platt. On mother's side, Jacob Easter, grandmother unknown.

Roy Chamblin was indentured to E. L. Hillborn of Lucas, Ohio, on December 4, 1905. Roy was returned July 27, 1906.

Was indentured to N. S. Wamsley March 22, 1907.

Was returned to the Home Mar. 27, 1907.

Indentured to J. S. Morgan Mar. 12, 1908.

Was discharged August 17, 1908. Ran away from Mr. Morgan.

HOW CLUES POINTED TO CHAMBLIN

John W. Newman and Miss Louise Doyle were murdered in the "death cottage" on the Scioto Trail, seven miles north of the city, between the hours of 7 and 9 p. m. on the night of Friday, October 21.

Their dead bodies were found on the floor of the sitting room of the cottage on Friday afternoon, October 28, one week after they were murdered.

Then began the hunt for the murderer, no one placing credit on a suicide pact between the young couple.

On Wednesday, November 2, Sheriff E. E. Riekey received a tip that a one-legged man, heavily armed, had been working on the Scioto Trail, where he was accused of holding up people.

On Thursday, November 3, Sheriff Riekey learned that Chamblin was missing from the home of relatives on the Galena Pike on the West Side.

After receiving a tip that Chaullin was in Cincinnati, he left for that city, accompanied by N. & W. Detective L. H. Elmspacher of this city.

On Saturday, November 5, at 1 p. m., Chaulin was arrested at the home of relatives on Gift street in Cincinnati. He had just returned from California, O., and had lighted a cigarette when three Cincinnati detectives arrested him.

On the night of November 5 Chaulin was brought to the county jail here by Sheriff Hickey and Detective Elmspacher.
Two hours later, without any cooperation on the part of the officers, he made a complete confession of the double murder, giving robbery as the motive.

On Monday, November 7, he entered a plea to murder in the first degree when arraigned in the sheriff's office.
When asked if he were guilty of murder in the first degree, following the death of John W. Newman of Twelfth street and Louise Doyle of Grandview avenue, in a perfectly audible voice he said, "Yes, I am guilty."

On Monday, November 14, he was placed on trial in common pleas court before Judge Thomas. Before the sun set on that day he was sentenced to die in the electric chair.
When Chaulin was electrocuted shortly after midnight Thursday and the mandate of the court was carried out, the last chapter in one of the most brutal double murders in the history of Scioto county was written.

Chaulin was well known here, as he was frequently in the city. He made his home with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Easter, who reside on the Galena Pike near the end of the paving on the West Side road.

WEATHER IS HANDICAP

COLUMBUS, Mar. 24.—With the opening game but two weeks off, Director L. W. St. John is still carrying a number of candidates for the varsity baseball nine at Ohio State University and waiting for a chance to do some necessary weeding.

Temperamental March weather has permitted but one practice game, a five-inning affair. The acid test of competition will be applied with the first break in the weather.

A practice game with a local club is scheduled for April 1. Ohio Wesleyan will furnish the first collegiate competition on April 7. Another exhibition game with Zanesville Mark Greys will be sandwiched in before the Buckeye squad entrains for a weeks southern trip on April 12.

The May 6 open date created by the decision of Indiana to accept an offer to go to Japan has been filled with Butler College of Indianapolis, now coached by "Pat" Page, former University of Chicago basketball mentor. The Buckeyes will wind up a two days' jaunt into Hoosier territory by moving on to Indianapolis after engaging Purdue at Lafayette, Ind., on May 5th.

REV. TILLIS TO CONDUCT SERVICES

Tonight, 7:30, when Rev. H. S. Tillis meets with the First Christian folks to have part in their prayer service, the choir will hold their rehearsal in the main auditorium, the prayer meeting folks meeting in the beginners' room. This was made necessary on account of the very important meeting of the choir to get ready for the coming meeting. Rev. N. B. Crabtree, who will direct the choir during the meeting has asked that that body be well organized for work and that all those who expect to help with the music be in their places when he comes on Friday of next week. He has also selected a list of songs which he will use during the revival services and has asked director Fetter to have the choir rehearse these. By having the two meetings separated by a room, they will not interfere with each other and both will be called at the usual hour of 7:30.

A list of the regular prayer meetings will be given in tomorrow's paper, together with their location and the entire plan for the week of preparation.
Monday night the First Christian Bible school Evangelistic committee will hold a very important meeting at the church with Rev. Culbertson and the two elders, Thight and Dodge who are directing the committee.

A READER.
It isn't necessary to give them a salt bath. The water should be changed according to the size of the bowl or the number of fish kept therein, but it is not well to change the water too often. In a large-sized aquarium two fish may be kept by changing the water about every two weeks. A few crumbs of bread may be dropped in the water once or twice a week. Some people keep a few sprays of moss in the water for the fish to nibble on. They can tell you how to care for them where you buy them. I have never had any myself, so don't know much about them.

Dear Dolly—I read in the paper so many answers you have given, and I want you to help me out. Dolly, I am a boy of seventeen and have been keeping company with a nice girl of 18. Dolly, I have been going with her for six months and I like her. Do you think she is too old for me, and do you think I am too young to go with the girls? Remember, Dolly, I have gone with four other girls before I started to go with this one.
A LOVER OF GIRLS.
If you must go with the girls, I think you are safer with an older girl than with a young and giddy one. I don't imagine the one you are going with takes you seriously, so you might as well keep on going with her as long as she will go with you.

Dear Dolly—I missed my March number of the People's Home Journal, and I wonder if I could get a copy through your column. Also, tell me how to clean brass chandeliers? I have tried different polishes without results.
THANK YOU.
You can remove stains from chandeliers by rubbing with a soft rag dipped in salt and vinegar. Wash off and polish with a piece of soft leather and dry with a clean cloth which you can buy at a drug store.

Dear Dolly—I have been going with a man for four years and we are not engaged yet. Do you think that is too long to go with a man without any sign that he is going to marry me? He has no right to object to your going with other men. If he has gone with you four years he ought to come to some understanding with you, or you with him. If he doesn't want to marry you, he has no right to keep other men from going with you. If he wants you, he should speak up, while the speaking is good.

Oak Hill, Ohio.—Dear Dolly—I have been going with a boy of 20 for some time, but I don't think he cares for me. He goes with other girls more than he does with me. Dolly, do you think he would go with me if he did not care anything about me?
WORRIED TOOTSIE.
He probably likes you, but he is too young to go with one girl all the time. If you like him you might as well take your chance at going with him occasionally the same as the other girls.

Dear Miss Wise—Would like to say a few words through your valuable column in regards to roller skating on sidewalks, and in defense of little children on the sidewalk. I think the chief's order a good one, and also think little children on the sidewalk, as well as older people, will be safer without a bunch of roller skaters tearing along the sidewalk as little children 3 or 4 years old are in danger of being knocked down and badly hurt. "A Taxpayer" says it seems little children have no rights on the sidewalks, even in front of their own homes. If some of them would stay in front of their own homes they probably would have more rights, as one roller skater said, "We are not allowed down on our sidewalk." Now, Dolly, we are no sure-heads, nor do we object to the children making a noise and having a good time, but we do object to being run off the sidewalk by a bunch of rough skaters from another street, and we are in favor of enforcing the order all over town.

one how to take letters out of flour sacks. My phone number is 1223-14.
A DAILY READER.
Did you inquire at the book stores or news stands for a copy of your magazine? It is impossible to get the letters out of flour sacks. Would advise you to wash them with soap and cold water until you get all the coloring you can out, then boil them until the remaining letters come out.

Oak Hill, Ohio.—Dear Dolly—I have been going with a boy of 20 for some time, but I don't think he cares for me. He goes with other girls more than he does with me. Dolly, do you think he would go with me if he did not care anything about me?
WORRIED TOOTSIE.
He probably likes you, but he is too young to go with one girl all the time. If you like him you might as well take your chance at going with him occasionally the same as the other girls.

Dear Miss Wise—Would like to say a few words through your valuable column in regards to roller skating on sidewalks, and in defense of little children on the sidewalk. I think the chief's order a good one, and also think little children on the sidewalk, as well as older people, will be safer without a bunch of roller skaters tearing along the sidewalk as little children 3 or 4 years old are in danger of being knocked down and badly hurt. "A Taxpayer" says it seems little children have no rights on the sidewalks, even in front of their own homes. If some of them would stay in front of their own homes they probably would have more rights, as one roller skater said, "We are not allowed down on our sidewalk." ## Steel Buying Gaining Momentum; New Tonnage Shows No Signs Of Slacking

CLEVELAND, O., March 24.—The Iron Trade Review today says:

TO KILL RATS and MICE

Always Use the Genuine Stearns' Electric Rat and Roach Paste

It forces these pests to run from the body, just for water and fresh air. Rats, mice, cockroaches, waterbugs and ants destroy food and property and are carriers of disease.

Momentum is being steadily acquired by both the production and volume of buying of iron and steel. New tonnage shows no signs of slacking and on the contrary, is coming out from an increasing variety of sources. March tonnage is well in excess of February which was the best month in over a year. More rolling and steel capacity has been put on this week and production is working toward the 50 per cent mark.

Future contracts continue to enlist the attention of some buyers and instances of material being taken for stock purposes are more numerous. Jobbers in the Chicago district are credited with having placed recently from 100,000 to 150,000 tons of bars to replenish their supplies. Other indications of firmer prices are coming out. Steelmakers with unbalanced raw steel and finished outputs are buying sheet bars. Those sheetmakers who were permitting customers to specify against blanket tonnage $5 under the general market discontinued this practice the past week.

The Iron Trade Review's weekly composite of 14 iron and steel products continues to reflect a practically steady price position. This week the average is $32.50 as against $32.87 one week ago, $32.86 two weeks ago, and $33.04 in the first week of the year.

The best week by a considerable margin is reported in structural steel awards. These totaled approximately 40,000 tons with about 21,000 tons of new work up for figures. This does not include the 23,000-ton bridge for the New York Central Railroad which is reported to have been closed with an independent shop. Total structural awards in the country for February were 78,700 tons, or 43 1-2 per cent of shop capacity, an increase of 6,000 tons over January. Cleveland is taking bids on a water line requiring 10,000 tons of steel, or 25,000 tons of cast iron pipe. Seattle has deferred to March 24 the taking of bids on its 13,000-ton project. The immediate threat of the coal strike has failed to disturb the pig iron situation.

It is now indicated lake ore prices will be at least 35 to 40 cents less than last year plus any reduction that may be made in upper lake freights. Growing activity is shown in export demand for steel with Japan in the market for a wide assortment of material running into a large tonnage. The South Manchurian railroad has placed 7,000 tons of rails with the Consolidated Steel Corporation. New Zealand wants 10,000 tons. American fabricators are figuring on a Calcutta pipe line requiring 12,000 tons of plates.

TERMINAL REVIVAL STILL GOING ON

There was another large congregation present last night at the revival meetings being held at the Terminal church. Special music was furnished by Mrs. Henry Burton and Miss Helen Crabtree of Manly church. They sang most beautifully. "He Is a Savior of Love" and "I Am Listening." Following the sermon, Mrs. Burton sang "I Am Praying for You" and "Almost Persuaded." Miss Charlotte Swavel played the accompaniment.

The text of the sermon was "For what shall it profit a man, if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" Mark 8: 36-37. The pastor showed the tremendous value God places on a human soul. He considers it worth more than all the world. He values it enough that He sent His son to die to redeem it. He made it in his image and gave it immortal life. Yet great numbers are selling their souls for the cheap things the world has to offer.

There were two requests for prayer. Services tonight at 7:15. Special music. You'd better come. Why not make this night your decision for Christ?

Gang Called Off

The basketball game to have been played between the Portsmouth College of Business Girls and the Wheelersburg Select girls last night in the W. H. S. gym was called off by the village five.

HORRIBLE HEADACHES!

Try a Course of Gude's Pepto-Mangan to Overcome Their Cause

Perhaps you wonder whether a disordered stomach causes them. Maybe you think your eyes are not just right and that they make your head ache, or possibly that a sluggish liver makes your head hurt. But have you ever thought that your frequent headaches may be due to weak, watery blood? This is a very common cause of headache—what the doctors call "anemic headache," due to what they term general "blood poverty." Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan with your meals for a few weeks to build up your blood and general strength, and your headaches will probably cease. Gude's Pepto-Mangan contains digestive form of iron that puts more redness into your blood, and as everybody knows, it is red blood that is the only sure foundation of good health. ### If You Suffer from Constipation Read this Message Immediately!

About 90% of all can be blamed on constipation — one of the greatest enemies of the human race! Pills and cathartics aggravate dangerous conditions in the delicate intestinal tract while affording but temporary relief! The great, natural cleanser is Bran — KELLOGG'S BRAN, cooked and krumpled! If you eat bran regularly it will give relief permanently! Its work is wonderful!

Physicians endorse the use of Kellogg's Bran for constipation because it is a desirable way of correcting constipation through food. Bran is nature's food — not a "remedy"! Do not think of Kellogg's Bran as you think of pills and cathartics which never can afford permanent relief! Pills and cathartics aggravate already dangerous conditions. Kellogg's Bran sweeps the bowels naturally, cleansing and purifying the intestinal tract without irritation or discomfort! Realize, too, that the regular use of Kellogg's Bran will clear up a simply complexion and it will free the breath from disagreeable stomach odors. At least two tablespoons should be eaten daily, and as much more as needed for relief of chronic cases.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, is delicious served as a cereal, or it can be sprinkled over your favorite cereal, its nut-like flavor adding a delightful zest to breakfast! Kellogg's Bran is delicious in raisin bread, muffins, pancakes, gravies, etc.

Start the family eating Kellogg's Bran tomorrow morning! Kellogg's will actually build up the kiddies into fine, robust health. Your grocer has it.

Shriners' Day

ASHLAND, KY., Mar. 24. — Saturday will be Shriners' Day in Ashland and the mobility of El Haza Temple are looking forward to a day of genuine enjoyment. Illustrations: Potentate J. T. Field, and the other members of the Divan are working on a program which bids fair to be one of the best ever given by El Haza Temple.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for cathartics.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calmed's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping or the "keemate" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" — bad breath — a dull, tired feeling — sick headache — torpid liver — constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one of two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take this every night just to keep right. Try them. 1c and 30c.

facts you should know about furniture Buying

AFTER ALL YOUR HOME IS ALL YOU HAVE

It is the Dearest Place on earth for you and your Loved Ones. Why not make it a nice one? It is a good idea to buy a new piece of furniture every now and then, and thus keep the home looking new and up-to-date. Few families can expect to furnish the home anew very often, but anyone can keep it always looking well furnished and in keeping with the taste of the day, by replacing the most worn and out of date articles one or two at a time.

But be prudent and look before you buy. See where you can get the most for your money; "including Quality, Service and Satisfaction." Come to Steinkamp's and be convinced that we can sell you 20 per cent cheaper than the stores in the High Rent district.

Here is the reason; you figure it out.

Unimproved property in the High Rent District sells for, per foot ..... $1000.00
Unimproved property in this district sells for, per foot ..... $ 50.00

$ 950.00

50 foot lot

Difference in price of lot ..... $47500.00

Think of the difference this means in rent. Think of the difference this means in overhead. Think of the difference this means in taxes. Think of the difference this means in insurance, etc. Now think about yourself. It is your home that has to be furnished. It is your money that has to pay for the furniture. Where does the store in the High Rent District get this extra money to pay this extra expense? From the customer. Are you willing for them to take yours before you look around? Be fair with yourself, be fair with your loved ones and walk three blocks from the path of High Prices AND

Save $1.00 on every $5.00 you Spend

Steinkamp's offers you the greatest values, because it is the store in which values are safe and reliable, but we cannot better illustrate the values than by presenting

EVANS, ACCUSED OF MANSLAUGHTER, ON TRIAL

The trial of William Evans of Seventh street, local steelworker, charged with involuntary manslaughter in connection with the killing of Charles Molander in an automobile accident on the night of February 24 last, opened before Judge Stephenson and a jury in Common Pleas court Friday morning.

Little trouble was experienced in selecting the jury, although the regular venire was exhausted and there was short delay in the proceedings while court officers were busy rounding up tallies for examination as prospective jurors. The state exercised three peremptory challenges, W. B. Altman, Mrs. Ella Locke and W. V. Thomas being challenged by Prosecutor Sheppard and the defense excused Mrs. Blanche Sells and B. F. Rouse peremptorily while Andrew Hill and Arthur Rode were excused for cause, their having formed and expressed an opinion.

The panel was finally filled with twelve persons acceptable to both sides and the jury as sworn is composed of these men: Howard Rapp,

J. H. Mann, Edward McGandless, John Weghorst, Frank C. Deter, Alex Glickner, Charles Briggs, Albert Bodmer, Joseph Burgraf, S. C. Robinson, Smith Conkel and Pres. Thompson.

Prosecutor Sheppard in his statement said to the jury that the killing of Molander was due to a violation of the statutes on the part of the accused and that such violation of law was the approximate cause of the fatal accident which occurred when the automobile driven by Evans left the Galea Pike, near the Hayman farm, West Side, and upset.

The prosecutor claimed that the state would show that Evans was operating the machine at a greater speed than allowed by law and that he was intoxicated at the time.

Attorney Skelton said the defense expected the facts to disclose quite a different view than that claimed by the state and he told the jury that the defendant's plea of not guilty to the indictment amounted to a general denial of all the contentions of the prosecution and put into issue each and every one of the allegations of the indictment.

First Witness

Al. Windel, undertaker, was the first witness called and he told of visiting the scene of the wreck on the West Side in response to a call a few minutes after the accident occurred. He stated that on his arrival there Molander was lying in the roadway and that Evans was sitting on the running board of the automobile which had flipped in the accident. The witness said that he noticed two cuts on Evans' face, and that the latter appeared to be in a dazed condition. Mr. Windel asserted that there was an odor of liquor about the wreck but he was unable to say that the smell came from Evans or the other men or whether whiskey had been spilled and declared that he was unable to say whether Evans was sober or intoxicated. He further told of bringing Molander and Evans to Hopewell hospital and of being present when the former succumbed to his injuries a short time later.

Saw Machine Upset

Henry Windle, farmer, who lives near the scene of the wreck, saw the machine upset and went to the assistance of the men. He did not see any whiskey or smell liquor and he was unable to say from what he observed that Evans was intoxicated. He was permitted to tell that he saw the machine approaching some distance and that it was traveling at a rapid speed.

Robert Hatcliff and Floyd Adams, who live on the Hayman farm, were stacking lumber at the roadside and were eye-witnesses to the accident. They described how the car approached, traveling at fast speed, first swerving to one side of the roadway and then the other before it plunged over the side and upset. Both thought the machine was running about 40 miles an hour. They stated they ran to help the men and that the first statement was made by Evans, who requested them to assist the other men and that he then directed them to shut off the engine. The witnesses also told of Evans exclaiming as he looked at Molander's body lying in the road, "My best friend is dead."

Did Not See Liquor

Neither Hatcliff nor Adams saw any whiskey but claimed they smelled the odor of liquor about the scene of the wreck and they were unable to say that Evans was under the influence of liquor.

At this juncture court adjourned for the noon recess and the state resumed the offering of testimony when court convened at one o'clock. The state rested its case early in the afternoon session and then the defense started on its innuendo in an effort to break down the force of the state's evidence, and to support its claim that the accused is innocent.

There were more than a score of witnesses present in court which the defense expected to call and late this afternoon it was indicated that this offering of testimony will not be finished before Saturday morning when the case will go to the jury.

Attorneys E. G. Miller and S. A. Skelton represent the defendant and Prosecutor Sheppard is handling the case for the state.

THIS WOMAN SUFFERED

Mrs. H. A. Leman, Sturgis, Colo., writes: "I suffered with bladder and kidney trouble for years. Doctored and tried everything. No help. Finally a friend sent me Foley Kidney Pills. They helped me so much I used 7 bottles. Now I feel fine. Spent sleepless nights. Suffered so it seemed I hardly could live. Recommend Foley Kidney Pills to all who suffer from kidney trouble as I did." Fisher and Stretch Pharmacy—advertisement.

Suspect Is Not Believed To Be The Murderer

QUAKERTOWN, Pa., March 24.—Police authorities who have been endeavoring to connect an unknown prisoner here with the murder of Adam Weaver, who disappeared after the killing of the constable. While some persons who lived in this vicinity at the time of the killing believe the man resembles Weaver, others who knew him well said he is not the man wanted.

The prisoner, who was picked up merely as a disorderly person, said he was Roy Hecox, and that he was born in Homer township, Illinois, more than forty years ago. He said he had wandered all over the country and lost an arm while employed as a brakeman on a western railroad 15 or 20 years ago. Hecox said he sold newspapers in Philadelphia years ago and this statement was confirmed by two Philadelphia policemen who knew him and said he was a harmless character. The prisoner is being held by Chief of Police Harry Rhoades for further investigation. There was a reward of $1,500 for the capture of Weaver.

He had talked with Mr. Harding last week, declared he would be "exceedingly surprised" if the executive signed it.

Service Men Approve Bill

Confidence that the House bill would meet with the general approval of former service men was expressed today by Howard MacNider, national commander of the American Legion.

"The overwhelming majority gave the adjusted compensation bill in the House yesterday," said Mr. MacNider, in a formal statement, "shows that the representatives, close to the hearts of the people, realize the justice of the measure and in spite of highly organized propaganda men and women, who have confidence in the integrity and judgment of the ways and means committee."

After measure which has been twice passed by the lower house, by such overwhelming majorities, and one such an confident it will meet with the general approval of former service men and women, who have confidence in the integrity and judgment of the ways and means committee."

COURT HOUSE

San Fined, Mother Is Sent To Jail
Leroy "Nig" Blair, local pugilist, was given a reprimand by Probate Judge Gilliland after the evidence in his hearing, on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Irma Callahan, sixteen-year-old girl, was heard Friday and was fined $100 and costs, which he paid and was released. A thirty day jail sentence was suspended, the court remarking that several circumstances in the case warranted such action. Blair, after entering a plea of not guilty when he first appeared before Judge Gilliland, returned later and changed his plea to guilty. The fact that James Callahan, father of the girl, announced his determination to file new charges against Blair and have the case brought before the next grand jury, also caused the judge to lighten the sentence.

A surprise was sprung when Mrs. Nan Blair, mother of Nig Blair, was brought into court also on a charge of contributing to the girl's delinquency, it being alleged that she accompanied her son and the girl on their trip to Columbus, and when they returned, registered the girl at the Brunswick here under a false name. Mrs. Blair was given a thirty day jail sentence and $100, to stand committed until paid. She has not yet made arrangements to pay up.

The girl, Irma Callahan, after receiving a lecture by the judge, and a warning to do better in the future, was made a ward of the court. She was fined $1 and costs, which was paid by her father.

Through Attorney R. F. Kimble, the plaintiff alleges that the wife refused to do her household duties and refused to live with him since January 1921, when, he claims, she abandoned him without cause, besides, he asserts, she cursed and called him names and even threatened to poison him. He further complains that she associated with other men late at night and that she declared "it was none of his business" when he remonstrated with her.

Associates Named
J. M. Augustin, Oscar S. Slatery and Gus Esures have been named by the court as appraisers of the property involved in the suit of Steve Seison against Chris Mahavazos to dissolve the partnership of the Liberty Confectionery on Chillicothe street. Attorney W. R. Sprague was recently named as receiver to take charge of the business.

Wife Charges Cruelty
Lulu Merston charges cruelty and in an her suit for divorce and alimony filed in Common Pleas court Thursday against Elus Merston, 1206 Union street, whom she married March 12, 1921. Through Attorneys Blair and Blate the plaintiff alleges that Merston has cursed and abused her, repeatedly threatened to do her bodily harm and complains that he has been guilty of misconduct with other women, naming one F. Culver. The wife secured a temporary injunction restraining the defendant from disposing of his property and enjoining him from molesting her and her child by a former marriage.

C. E. Election

John A. Lloyd was chosen president of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Second Presbyterian church at a business meeting last night. He succeeds Wesley P. Blodgett, who has held the office for three years.

Other officers elected were: Miss Mildred Lundum, vice president; Miss Roberta Bentness; and Miss Helen Shriver, secretaries; Howard Dressler, treasurer, and the following committee: chairman, W. P. Blodgett; Misses Jennie M. Jones, Katherine Blodgett, Edith Smith, Minnie Pantenay, Pearl Elchberger, and Marcel Galford.

Following the election a delightful lunch was served.

An organized protest by the intellectuals in Bulgaria followed announcement on February 24 of the government's plan to simplify the nation's orthography.

Prayer Meeting

Rev. C. E. Chandler of Bigelow M. E. Church will conduct the prayer meeting this evening at Second church. An entire change of pulpit throughout the city is the occasion of his presence. The meeting will be held in Judge Blair's Bible class room at 7:15.

SOCIETY

The fifty-third anniversary of the founding of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church was celebrated in an appropriate manner, with all day services yesterday at Trinity church which were largely attended.

Members of the other Methodist churches in the city, Bigelow and Manly joined with the Trinity church members in observing the day. The Women's Foreign Missionary Society was organized on March 23rd, 1869 by a group of eight zealous women, including six secular members and two missionaries at the Tremont Street Church in Boston, Mass. From this small group of women the society has grown until it has now reached its large present proportions. A year later, in 1870 the Cincinnati branch of the society was organized, with which Portsmouth is connected.

The outstanding features of yesterday's session was the very interesting talk delivered by Miss Rosetta Beck, a missionary who has been laboring in Vikarabad, India, and is at present home on a furlough. Miss Beck told of her work in India, and of the amount of good that is being accomplished through the efforts of the women affiliated with either the large foreign missionary groups of the city, or the equally zealous societies in the smaller communities.

Yesterday morning's session opened at 9:30 o'clock with the singing of hymns. The devotions were in charge of the Trinity Church auxiliary, while Mrs. J. D. Mackay had charge of the special musical features. Wheelersburg and Scitoville auxiliaries gave short demonstrations as also did an auxiliary from Bigelow church.

Mrs. W. H. McCurdy, the speaker during the morning session gave an interesting talk on "Echoes of China."

Luncheon was served at 11:30 o'clock in the church dining room, and the session reconvened at one o'clock. Manly Church Auxiliary, with Mrs. B. P. Stewart in charge, gave their demonstration, while Miss Ruth Fitch a talented vocalist, rendered several pleasing solos. Miss Rosetta Beck was the only afternoon speaker, and at the conclusion of her address, the closing prayer was offered by Rev. W. C. Millikan of Trinity church.

About sixty young people attended the supper last evening at Bigelow church arranged by a committee from the older Missionary Societies of the church for the Young People's Societies of Bigelow, Trinity and Manly churches. The meeting was arranged so that the Young People could meet and hear Miss Beck. She was introduced by Rev. C. E. Chandler, pastor of Bigelow church. She told of the missionary work being done in India and also talked of her own personal experiences while working in that country.

Miss Marie Little also delivered an interesting and instructive talk on the history of the organization and the purposes of the Foreign Missionary Societies. Miss Beck met with the Children's Mission Band at the Bigelow church this afternoon and spoke to the children about the little folks in India. She will deliver an address at Wheelersburg this evening and tomorrow morning will leave for Columbus where she will also deliver several addresses in the interest of her work.

About two hundred guests attended the birthday party held last evening in the basement of the Franklin Avenue M. E. church, celebrating the fifty-second anniversary of the founding of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the church. After the devotionals the following interesting program was rendered:

Talk on "The Origin and Purpose of Founder's Day"—Miss Clara Sherman.

Little Light Bearers Demonstration—"You in your little corner and I in mine" sung by Margaret Wendelken.

The King's Herald's Told Us About "Mother Moore's Missionaries."

Those taking part in this little playlet included Grace Keffer, Violet Cullen, Mary Catherine Pressler, Esther Mae Wendelken, Margaret Helbig, MacDuff, Fletcher, Helen Eyer, George Pressler, Jr., Hoyt Smith, Thomas Watkins, Bobbie Wendelken, Helen Wendelken, Joyce Enger, Anna Ruth Wendelken and Margaret Wendelken.

Vocal Trio by Misses Bertha Gray, Ava Jones and Martha Cook.

Playlet by the Standard Bearers, "Waiting for the Doctor."

Cast of Characters: Doris White, Catherine Kugelman, Frances Wendelken, Doris Stewart, Margaret Rowson, Thelma Connors, Isabel Bennett, Maxine Coriell and Elizabeth White.

Play by the Auxiliary "Aunt Polly Joins the Missionary Society." Those taking part in this little playlet were Mrs. Elmer Racy, Miss Hazel Grimm, Miss Lena Dunwell, Miss Mae Zimicker and Miss Helen Ray.

Rev. Severinghaus delivered an interesting and instructive talk on "The Comprehensiveness of the Work." The Silver offering taken up at the meeting will be sent to the "Leaves of Remembrance" fund at a school in Korea.

Before adjournment a social hour was enjoyed during which ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. J. Frost Davis who was recently operated upon in Sebringham hospital, was able to visit the front porch of the hospital Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Henry, of Greenup have concluded a visit to Portsmouth relatives and friends.

LOCAL NEWS

Following admission that they had shipped misbranded live-stock feed in interstate commerce in violation of the Federal pure food and drugs act, Timothy G. Jewett Sons, of this city, were fined $75 and costs by United States District Judge John Weld Peck, Thursday, in Cincinnati. The defendants said they were not the manufacturers of the feed and that they did not know that it was not up to the standard required and that they had not actually adulterated or intentionally misbranded the feed.

The local firm explained that they had received a carload of barley feed in sacks from a broker in Cleveland with labels attached. The proceedings of the trial disclosed the fact that they had reshipped the feed in the same sacks in which they received it and used the same labels. Part of this feed was shipped into Kentucky and therefore became interstate shipment. When some of these feed was tested it was found that it contained some ingredients other than stated on the label and since the Jewett Company had shipped the feed they were guilty under the law of the offense of misbranding and adulterating although guilty in a technical sense only as they had nothing to do with the making of the original contents of the feed. The local people were victims of an innocent mistake on the part of the original shippers of the feed, the testimony showed.

Within the next few weeks between 40 and 50 bodies will be taken up and re-interred in Greenlawn. Cemetery employees have already started the work of removing them from a strip of ground that is very wet and causes water to stand in the graves. This section is east and south of the mausoleum. The bodies being taken up have been buried only a couple of years and those removed so far have been found in very good condition, according to Superintendent Elmore Musser. The bodies are being reburied in a dry strip of ground. Most of the bodies being removed or those of colored persons.

It is in the section where single graves may be purchased.

Miser and Stridlett's grist mill at Vanceburg was visited by thieves last night. They probably wanted material to keep their stills in operation.

HAMILTON HELD TO GRAND JURY

A fistie mixup at the fruit store of John Hannah, Eleventh and Lincoln streets about 11:30 o'clock last night with Bryan Hamilton and John Hannah as the principals resulted in Hannah receiving a broken nose and serious cuts about the left eye and on the back of his head.

After the fight Hamilton and young men companions cleared out but the police were furnished with the name of Hamilton and arrested him a short time later on a charge of assault. Today the charge was changed to cutting with intent to wound. A charge of disorderly conduct was also placed against Hamilton.

In Municipal Court this afternoon Hannah appearing as a witness against Hamilton had a big bandage over his nose and left eye.

He had as witnesses Elmer Adkins and Harold Swobbel, who were with him last night. Both claimed that the trouble started over an argument and that Hannah invited Hamilton into the back room to fight it out. Adkins and Swobbel claimed they went to the back room just in time to see Hannah on the floor with blood on his face and a table knocked over with a lot of catsup bottles spilled on the floor also.

Hannah on the witness stand said that an argument led to blows and that Hamilton used a blackjack on him. Hamilton on the stand claimed that Hannah opened his place of business and went in with his friends and that an argument with one of his friends was taken up by himself (Hamilton) and that he struck Hannah about three blows with his left fist only.

Mr. George Martin who attended Hannah was called and he addressed the wounds to show the court and later said that he did not believe the cuts were made by a man's fist.

Judge McCall then held Hamilton to the grand jury on the cutting with intent to wound charge and fixed bond at $200. On the disorderly conduct charge he fined Hamilton $10 and costs.

Lad Is Warned

James Adams, ten-year-old lad, of Sixth street near Broadway, arrested last night after he had tendered a $20 bill to a street car conductor in payment for fare for himself and a couple of companions, was dismissed when he appeared before Probate Judge Gilliland this morning.

The lad confessed to Captain Startzman that he had picked the bill up at the home of Henry Johnson on Jackson street, where several big bills were left lying on a dresser, while he was playing there with boy companions. The money was returned and the owner refused to prosecute the case, the lad being dismissed with a warning.

Steal Sugar

Thieves visited S. A. Browning's warehouse in Vanceburg and stole several hundred pounds of sugar. The police here have been asked to keep a lookout for the thieves.

Telegraph Operator J. D. Estes of St. Paul, Ky., is the proud possessor of the first radio telephone instrument in Lewis county. With it he enjoys the finest concerts, sermons and speeches delivered within a wide radius. He recently had the pleasure of hearing W. J. Bryan and Harry Lauder.

Returned Missionary At First Christian Tonight

The members of the First Christian church are anticipating a splendid audience this evening, when Rev. T. H. This pastor of the First Baptist church will conduct the prayer meeting. Rev. This is a speaker of strength, and the members of the church are anticipating a rare treat. The First Christian church pastor, Rev. Gerald Culbertson will speak at Trinity church this evening, but at the conclusion of his address he will return to his congregation, as he is much interested in hearing the address of C. Manley Morton, missionary at Asuncion, Paraguay, South America, who is in the city and who has kindly consented to speak for thirty minutes at the conclusion of the prayer meeting. He and his good wife are among the best known of Disciple missionaries, and his address this evening promises to be freighted with much spoke. It will be recalled Mrs. Morton spoke here less than a year ago. Mr. Morton but recently arrived in this country—making a trip of 8,000 miles that he might acquaint the people of this country with the needs of the people of South America. Miss Mary A. Lense, secretary of the Ohio Christian Missionary Society will also be present this evening, and of course it would be impossible for Miss Morton to simply be a listener—she always has something worth while to say.

SUSPENSIONS STICK; SAYS LANDIS

Judge K. M. Landis, supreme ruler of base ball, indicated at New Orleans Thursday to newspaper men that "Babe" Ruth and Bob Meusel, Yankee outfielders, must serve out the suspensions placed on them last fall for disobeying the rules of the major leagues by playing exhibition games after the close of the season.

CAN HAVE WHAT THEY WANT

If the people of Ohio really wish the sort of governor they should have for their own good, all they have got to do is to say so by their votes.

On the Democratic side there will, probably, be only one aspirant appearing in the primaries. This is Vic Donahey, who is known by everybody to stand for plain old fashioned honesty in government, an economical and efficient administration without frills.

In the Republican primaries will be at least a half dozen candidates. Two of these stand out distinctively in character and merit, Roscoe McCullough and C. L. Knight. The first is a strong man, with the right view of official management, while the second is still stronger and vides with Senator Pomerene in his political frankness and independence. Of the two we would prefer Knight, partially because he is an able and successful newspaper publisher, but most because he is straightforward and wears no man's collar.

In so far as the Republican aspirants are concerned the result will show much of the merits or demerits of the primary system. Carmi Thompson will have the support of "the federal crowd" and split with Harvey Smith on the state gang. McCullough and Knight will be free lances, with no other organization back of them, other than such as they may be able to build up for the campaign.

The masses of the Republican party will have opportunity to express themselves for themselves, or else vote as the machines say.

It isn't a far guess what they will do. Knight and McCullough on the fateful August day will be enrolled in the also ran class.

A BATTLE OF GIANTS

THERE are in all the world twelve million automobiles. Of these ten millions are owned in the United States. The rest are scattered in small batches wherever there are roads, and even in some climes where there are none.

England ranks next to the United States with a paltry half million. Germany comes third with less than a hundred thousand.

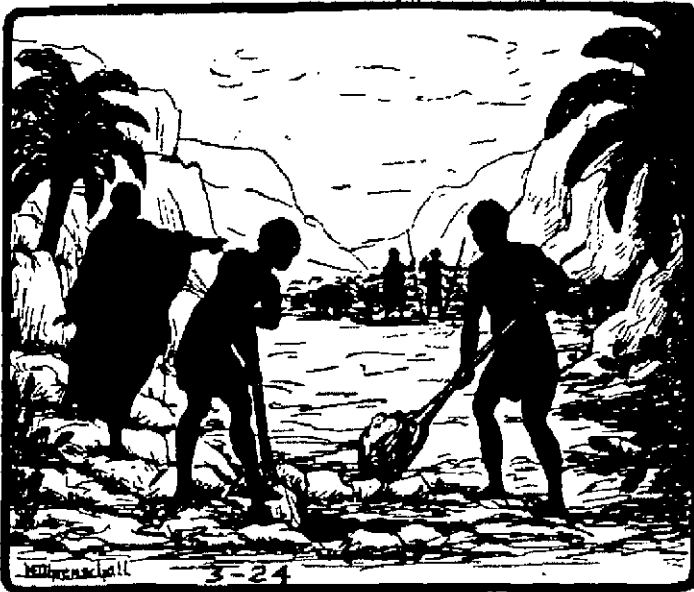

American manufacturers are planning to control automobile production the world over. This is interesting, but not so much as a developing fight for the control of the industry in America. It is going to be a three cornered struggle and there will be giants in it. At one corner is the General Motors Company, with one of the du Ponts at the head, at another the Durant organization, with William Durant in command and at the last your sturdy Uncle Henry Ford.

The General Motors opened a skirmish some time back by buying the Chevrolet to compete with Ford on a popular priced car. When it brought in du Pont it "froze" out Durant, who until then had been its presiding genius. Durant immediately sought reprisal by forming his own company and has had dazzling success in absorbing and developing subsidiary plants. Only last week he brought out the Star in direct competition with the famous "Tin Lizzie", fixing an almost identical price on it. Of course, Uncle Henry has had his eyes shut all this time or lying down while enemies were plotting his overthrow. He is going to carry the war right into Africa and to this end he has bought the Lincoln, one of the top notchers and be not at all surprised to hear that he has acquired other cars of medium price.

It is going to be the survival of the fittest and among the probabilities are that in a year automobiles will be bought like eggs, by the half dozen and dozen, so a fresh one may be on for every emergency.

ISAAC GOES TO GERAR.

FAMINE came. Isaac went to the king of the Philistines in Gerar. God blessed him and made him great. The Philistines were envious and told him to go, for he was mightier than they. The well Abraham had digged the Philistines had filled with earth. Isaac went into the valley, again dug the wells. The herdmen of Gerar fought and said they were theirs. The wells were: Esau, Sitnah and Rehoboth. Isaac went to Beersheba, digged a well there and built an altar to God and he and the king of the Philistines promised to never harm one another again.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 24.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: The pell-mell rush of home goers. Black lava—flow of motors. Shop girls with a kitten-gaze. Thin horse dogs and gloomy grooms. Newsboys shrieking a world's despair. Spangled and plumed Broadway Dinamos—just beginning the day. My hat is off to that bird—he talked back to a cop.

Street lamps winking one by one along side streets. Aged clerks going to solitary exile in shabby brownstone fronts. The pigeons descend upon Times Square for crumbs. There goes Nora Jayes. Her hair is silver white. Tempus does fugit. A Chinese mandarin and an Egyptian dancing girl—but only make believe. They're leaving a customer's shop. Crowds waiting to see Dempsey leave the theatre. Wish I packed his wallop. I'd like to try it on the fellow who sold me these shoes. Little man with a moustache has married three beautiful women. No wonder he's short of breath.

A snowwhite limousine! School-boys and adventurers. The row of beggars lined up against the public library wall. And the blind one is smoking a pipe. Wonder what book the lower policeman is reading.

More new perfume shops. And the most beautiful ladies as clerks. Mrs. Something-or-Other brings out her coach and four. Always feel sorry for the poor boob who has to blow the bugle. Looks so silly in his short pants. Wonder how much Jack a coach bugler gets? Gerabine Farrar coming from tea. Pink hat and monkey fur coat. What's become of what's-his-name? I'll not give him any publicity. His eyes are too soulful. Ambulance laden with flowers from theatre dressing rooms. So to waffles!

At the Bishop's dinner the other evening Bishop Manning said he could probably tell Dr. Stetson, his successor in the rectorship of Old Trinity a few unfamiliar things about his parish. "For instance," he said, "the Trinity charter gives the church the right to all whales cast up on the shore of Long Island." Long Island fishermen might dispute the fact. Nevertheless whales were deemed royal fishes at the time when a British sovereign granted the Trinity charter.

The Stage Door Inn in West 47th street has opened. It is being conducted by a group of stage stars and show girls who are out of work are acting as waitresses. It is the first effort by stage people to conduct a co-operative business, the profits will go into a fund for those who are in dire need. And the plight of chorus girls in New York is indeed tragic. Three of the waitresses at the Stage Door Inn are girls who were making $150 a week a year ago. No tipping is permitted at the inn, but those who wish to contribute may offer the usual tip for the fund. The place is having quite a vogue for the sponsors have asked prominent people of the stage to dine there whenever possible and others go to see them at close range. The night I was there I saw Hilda Spong, John Drew, Hazel Dawn, Leon Errol, Louise Groody and many others of equal prominence.

Dan the Battery Postman is a character known to every ship-news reporter. He drifted into ship-news headquarters 15 years ago, a derelict from a tramp steamer. He had once voyaged with Stevenson and he became ambitious to write. He acts as a sort of messenger boy and picks up small change and enough to eat. Each day he writes an article which he gives to some one of the scribblers. He has never reached print with his stuff, but he keeps at it. And he does not complain because editors do not accept his wares.

Asking too Much

Lover—No, Priscilla, not even for your sake will I comply with the conditions laid down by your father as a preliminary to my marrying you. His Lass—W-w-why? What does he want you to do? "He suggested that I should go and hang myself first."—Stray Stories.

True Enough

"Then you have decided not to marry him to reform him?" "Such is my decision. If the Government can't reform him, what chance have I?"—from Judge.

Easy

"George, you should get married," advised the Married Man. "It is wonderful to have a home waiting for you when you return at night, there is ecstasy in curling for a garden and a lawn, you can raise a dog from a pup, children are adorable and no trouble at all, a wife is an inspiration, and even if she does get suspicious, you can always talk her out of it."

"I could if I could lie like you can," said the Bachelor, thoughtfully. —Wayside Tales.

According to Her Cookbook

Mrs. Younghouse—Merry! That pie is burning and I can't take it out for ten minutes yet!

I F YOU ORE WELL BRED

You will not back out of a drawing-room when leaving a gathering. After making adieu turn and walk straight away. You will make your first formal call very short: say 15 minutes to a half hour. You will always take a gentleman's hat and coat when he calls, or indicate where he may put them.

"Who said taking care of your friends won't get you anywhere?" said the Lark. "Oh, as he was being taken from the jail to the court house, Miss Taxway Apple is taking a rest expansion with a view to playing a queen and sorceress in the movies."

If I Can Live

If I can live To make some pale face brighter and to give A second luster to some tear dimmed eye, Or even impart One throbb of comfort to an aching heart, Or cheer some wayworn soul in passing by, If I can lend A strong hand to the fallen, or defend The right against a single envious strain, My life, though bare Perhaps of much that seemeth dear and fair To us on earth, will not have been in vain.

The purest joy, Most near to heaven, far from earth's alloy, Is bidding clouds give way to sun and shine. And 'twill be well If on that day of days the angels tell of me: "She did her best for one of Thine."

—Helen Hunt Jackson.

Languish

The Last Rose of Summer had the grace to blush. "Everybody else is deflated," it acknowledged.

Pity

"The old gentleman is full of sentimental sayings." "Yes, we call him epigramma!"—from Judge.

Paradoxical But True "Now, son," "Yes, dad?" "If you expect to carry on my business you gotta stop carrying on."

Unkind

"They say that travel broadens the mind." "What a stay-at-home you must have been!"
